

Today's Message

Our Heavenly Father, it is because of your mercies we are not consumed, because your compassion does not fail. They are new every morning, great is your faithfulness. My soul says you are my portion and I will hope in you. You are good to those that wait for you, and to the soul that seeks you. I will hope and quietly wait for your deliverance. Thank you, Lord, for your mercies today and every day. In Jesus name amen.

Joshua 1:9

9 Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the LORD thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.

Dear Lord, I love my conversations with you. It always changes my situation, or it changes me. Thank you for putting your words in my heart. Please help me to take action on your words. You will send words and people to us to help and encourage us, thank you for your mercies. Please help me to not compare myself to others and to not shrink you down to my experiences and my understanding. You were God before I got here and you are still God, mighty and not finite like me. Please help me to go in the strength that I have. God you are able. I refuse to live in fear because you are my strength. Thank you, Lord. In Jesus name amen.

Quiz:

Has the Lord commanded me to do something?

Am I afraid?

Do I feel distressed?

Has the Lord said He will be with me?

Recommended reading:

Lamentations 3:22-27 (prayer)

Luke 15

Matthew 4:17

Ephesians 3:20

Judges 6:11-14